

Disease Prevention and Treatment, and Peace
24 February 2018 — Coventry, United Kingdom

Magnus Riley, Peace Advocate

I was born in Sheffield in 1999 and have attended several schools across the country and am now studying Physics, Maths and Philosophy at the University of Edinburgh.

My relationship with Rotary has been long and fruitful. It has included several competitions- musical, culinary and oratorical! It seems only fitting to give this speech at a Rotary Conference as it was written for a Rotary Competition.

The Rotary Peace Project, led by Jean Best, has developed my leadership and team working skills. I became an advanced Peace Advocate after being trained in the skills of the Peace project for 2 years.

This gave me the opportunity to train other young people in the school to become Peace Advocates. I hope one day to lecture at university.