

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is the new regulation coming into force on 25 May 2018. As a small business, you will more than likely have to change something about the way you do business because of the changes. To help you prepare, we have created a simple checklist that outlines some of the changes and the steps you can take to prepare for them. More detailed information is available at fsb.org.uk and ICO.org.uk
