find me pass me to their friends like a pass-the-parcel at a children's party, and when they do, I spread around like butter on a hot piece of toast.

So, this is me. I am a simple thing. I am a complex thing. Search for me and you will find me. Sometimes, you will need to work hard to find me. Sometimes, you will search for me, but never be able to find me. Other times you may forget about me, but I am always there ready and waiting for you.

I am Peace.
